For immediate release

The Redings Mill Fire District responded to 1,266 calls for assistance in 2008. Of which an average response time of seven (7) minutes and thirty seven (37) seconds was accomplished. This response time was over a thirty (30) second improvement compared to 2007. Our fire district covers 110 square miles and responds to request for assistance from neighboring agencies as well.

Our staff also participated in thirty one (31) individual public education activities throughout Southwest Missouri. During these events 3,119 adults and 3,415 children were educated on the importance of fire safety.

It is the goal of our organization to improve fire safety among our citizens through education, quality of service and improved response times. Any questions regarding this information can be directed to Steve Coats, Assistant Chief of Operations.
